TEXAS

Round Rock, with a population of around 128,739 as of April 2018, is located 15 miles north of Austin in the Central Texas Hill Country. Round Rock is ranked the 27th largest city in Texas.

Round Rock is one of the fastest growing cities in the nation, and one of the best-managed cities in Texas. The city has maintained high quality of life while becoming a major center for economic growth in Central Texas, with industry clusters in Clean Energy, Advanced Manufacturing, Life Sciences and Computer/Software Development.

Quality schools, fun events, and plenty of opportunities to enjoy the outdoors are just a few reasons Round Rock is a great community to raise kids, and data used in recent studies proves the city is among the top family-friendly communities in the nation. Niche, an organization dedicated to "providing students, families, and professionals with deep insight into big life decisions," ranked Round Rock no. 13 on their recent list of the 2018 "Best Cities to Raise a Family." The rankings took into account the quality of Round Rock's public school system and also factored in affordability, safety, outdoor activities and more.

Downtown Round Rock

With a vibe like no other, there's something for everyone in historic Downtown Round Rock. Bring the kids to family-friendly events and the splash pad at Main Street Plaza, or enjoy a night of drinks, dancing, and delectable food with friends at the many bars and restaurants that line Main Street. Whatever you choose, don't forget to stop by Round Rock Donuts, the legendary, western-themed donut shop that's been offering a variety of baked goods since 1926

Other accolades include:

- #3 Best Performing City in America (2020-Milken Institute)
- #2 Best Places to Live (2019-Money Magazine)
- #1 Safest City in Texas and #5 in America (2018-Niche)

Bats

From March through November of each year, while most are familiar with the South Congress Bridge Bats, there is a smaller bat colony about 15 miles north of Austin fascinating locals and tourists in Round Rock, Texas. Just as their South Congress Bridge counterparts, they take to the air at dusk for their nightly feeding and aerial show. Eating roughly 20-30 thousand pounds of insects on each night flight, nearly a half million bats in Round Rock, Texas call the McNeil Overpass and I35 Bridge Bats home during this time period.

Arts & Culture

Downtown Round Rock was the site of a historic gunfight and subsequent capture (and death) of the 19th-century American train robber Sam Bass on July 19, 1878. The Rangers followed Bass and his gang after they robbed the Fort Worth-to-Cleburne train. Bass was tracked to Round Rock, and as he attempted to flee, was shot and killed by Ranger George Herold and Ranger Sergeant Richard Ware. Sheriff's Deputy A.W. Grimes was killed in the shootout.

The Round Rock
The Round Rock, a large stone in Brushy Creek, marks the site where wagons made low-water crossings in the 19th century. Nearby, Chisholm Trail Crossing Park has plaques detailing the city's cattle-driving industry.

Texas A&M Health Science Center
The Round Rock campus is a community-based medical school providing third- and fourth-year clinical training at regional clinical campuses around the state through affiliations through local physicians, clinics and hospitals. At the Round Rock clinical campus, clerkship directors direct the students' rotations in Emergency Medicine, Family Medicine, Internal Medicine, Obstetrics/Gynecology, Pediatrics, Psychiatry and Surgery at sites across Williamson County. Additional community physicians serve as clerkship faculty in these and other clinical areas. The Texas A&M College of Nursing's Round Rock location opened in Spring 2010 and is set to more than triple in graduating class size by 2021. Offering face-to-face instruction for both the Traditional and Second Degree Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) programs, the Round Rock location also serves as an advising location for online programs including RN to BSN and Master of Science in Nursing (MSN) for Nursing Education, Forensic Nursing and Nurse Practitioner.
